THE AMBASSADOR OR INFILTRATOR? THE CHOICE IS YOURS.
Are we ambassadors for basic human and animal rights? or are we infiltrators of a corrupt, perverted evil system which has no respect or feeling for individual life of any form? People are living up to the expectations of others rather than the individual capabilities of their selves. For many people the only meaning in life in terms of ambition is entertainment, pleasure, satisfaction and happiness. living up to the status quo. To achieve this people think they have to work for a capitolist system, a system which rules by power and threat in the form of government, religion, royalty and laws. so many people really consider themselves lower and of less importance or seek to gain a place in that power structure or create their own idols in the form of pop stars, footballers etc. Power, worship and status within their grasp. But the state encourages competition, divide and rule. Many people are living in a false material world of concrete, brick, glass, plastic, metal etc and out of touch with the growing natural environment of trees, flowers, grass, etc and are more and more communicating with machines rather than people, TV, video, computers, records, radios etc. power control to make you consume, make profit for others and distract you from the exploitation and destruction of people, animals and environment. The human species is supposedly the most advanced form of life yet many people are literally zombies as self sufficiency seems very limited. The TV, the most usefull machine of communication and education. Yet it indoctrinates, lies, poisons and controls the minds of many.

Thanks to many for their help, inspiration and friendship especially; Jen, Rich, Deb, mark, Dick, mum, Kath, PN, Anj+Giles, Mandy, Michael+Caroline, Alex, Pete+Captive. Captive?

Ⓐ ANAS

Captive are now a six piece band from various parts of southern Leicestershire. They formed in September 1984 and have played four gigs so far. Their music is a mixture of aggressive, emotional, protest punk as well as bouncy tuneless folk music, a little like such bands as Rudimentary Peni, The Mob or even early Crass or Flux. The lyrics are fairly original, sarcastic and protest about the false ideals of society's uncaring status quo. For more information, lyrics and/or their demo tape send a blank tape and SAE to; Alex, 7 Whinham Road, Broughton Astley, Leicestershire, LE 96 0N,

"Guilty Without Trial" is a fanzine containing articles, reviews and band interviews, 15p + SAE from; Rich, 15 Wareham Rd, Blaby, Leicester, LE 83 BE.

(Blaby is the home of capitolist MP Nigel Lawson!)

"Brains Thinking" is a fanzine mainly concerned with punk band interviews, interesting but needs more variety, 15p+SAE from; Mark, Briarside, Hanson Road, Hinckley, Leicestershire.

"Wasted Words" is a fanzine with band interviews and some good varied articles and poems. 10p+SAE from; Pete, 5a Hexthorpe Road, Hexthorpe, Doncaster.

"Blown to Bits" punk fanzine, 25p+SAE from; Bazzy, 33 Ronaldshay, Widness, cheshire, WA80 9R,

"Vagabond" is a fanzine with good artwork and layout, articles and band interviews, Steve, 48 Beetwell st, Chesterfield, Derbyshire.

"Raising Hell" is a fanzine with articles, interviews etc, still only 10p+SAE from; Sik! Box 32, 59-Cookridge Street, Leeds, LS 23AW.

"Peace News" is a fortnightly magazine by a collective concerned with non-violent revolution with news of anti-nuclear activities at the bases in the UK, peace camps, demos, pickets, boycotts etc. Good interesting, educational articles, book reviews, and events diary. sympathetic to anarchist issues but ignores the ALF and lacks coverage of even democratic animal rights protest. 45p+SAE from; 8-Elm Avenue, Nottingham, NG 34 GF.

ICONS OF FILTH are an anarchist punk band from Cardiff who formed in 1981 and have two EP's and one LP available. They have played many nationwide gigs mainly with Conflict, and have original clever inspirational lyrics matched with powerfull emotional music reminiscent of Rudimentary Peni, MDC, Antisect etc. Vocalist Stig writes most of the lyrics and answered the questions below by post. Thanks Stig and IOF.

John; What do you think to the current state of zines? Stig; A lot of zines are full of band interviews and very little else which is a bit of a waste. Some zines are excellent though. Yes, on the whole an allarming rate of zines are a bit stagnant and monotonous,,but hopefully the "editors" will learn from their own mistakes, thats more important.

John; As vegetarianism seems to be on the increase do you think the Animal Rights Movement will be taken more notice of? Stig; True, vegetarianism is on the increase, and very much so. Animal Rights organisations are ignored to a certain extent but their memberships are growing fast. I dont feel all these petitions will change as much as we all hope for, it seems a pity that such barbarism (totally supported by government and big business funding) should be fought against legally. (which in the main it is.) Government thrives on the cashflow this torture brings, Petitions and marches just arént enough, the ALF has the right idea , Direct Action is needed badly, and now. Wether its raiding laboratories or smashing butchers shops, its more effective than anything else, though the ALF will never get good press as most of their activities are somehow illegal.

John; Have you been to Molesworth? (proposed 2nd American cruise missile base in UK) Whats your opinion on the CND Non Violent Direct Action of cutting down the fence and entering the base in defiance? Stig; Some members of IOF have been to Molesworth , though we havnt been there as a unit. The cutting down of the fence and entering the base is obviously more of a pain to the Authorities than sitting at home, thats for sure.

John; Would you say that your athiests or do you accept that the bible has been misinterpreted and used as a "political weapon"? Do you believe theres life on other planets? UFOs? "Gods" from space?!

Stig; Id say we were athiests, I also believe that the bible is the biggest pile of ++++ ever written. Im not in the position to say that Jesus Christ never existed but I honestly believe that everyone got the wrong impression of him if he did, Religion is ++++, To all the other questions youve stated above I can do nothing but speculate, Ive never been out in the solar system, Ive never been visited by a martian, Ive never seen a UFO, and I dont agree with Gods of any sort as they are pathetic symbols of authority, and authority stinks.

John; Despite pessimism in society do you think things can change for the better?

Stig; The world can only be "saved" by a united effort by those in so called "civilised" countries making a louder noise and joining hands. I urge and challenge everyone who reads this to start working together in your area to make those around you realise were all the same, lets get our own houses in order, Im not a pessimist.

John; What are your ambitions as a band and as individuals? records?

Stig; As a band we hope to get accross to as many people as possible in whatever time we choose to keep the band going for. All we are doing is putting accross things we see them and appealing to people to question everything. We feel that very few people ever question who controls or manipulates them, their upbringing, their lives at present, their values, their morality or their personnel worth in this society as the ruling few would have it. As individuals, all we want is a fair deal..... and barely anybody is getting one. As for records, well just keep on churning out songs which we feel have relevance to specific subjects.

Thanks very much Stig and good luck to IOF. (better late than never for the reply which should have been in issue 2 but never mind!) write to:

Molesworth

USAF Molesworth is the second proposed American cruise missile base in the UK. (the first being USAF Greenham common as if you didn't know!) Molesworth is 42 miles from Leicester. At present I've visited the base and peace camps four times. The last time I visited I stayed at the Warren Lane Peace Camp for two days and one night with two friends. I was surprised that the camp had extended since I first visited in March. There was quite a lot of caravans, tents and even a bus, wigwam and boat! Despite the base the surrounding countryside is beautiful, at night the base is lit up around the fence and a searchlight scans the fields. The people at the peace camp were some of the friendliest people I've ever met, in the evening amid a beautiful sunset we all sat around a campfire singing and eating which was quite emotional, the sunrise was also beautiful and was quite a strange feeling to wake up next to a future cruise missile base! The peace camp seems like a back to nature "prototype" anarchist community, there's even a "vegan toilet" on site! (chemical though!) no meat-orientated shit! You don't have to cut the fence at Molesworth to voice your protest, four of us walking around the bridleway (public footpath) around the base had to have MOD police at regular intervals called out on the opposite side of the fence to us, some of them were suspiciously friendly and chatting, some nervous and some quite nasty looking. There's some nice woods next to the base in one corner which panics the police as we disappear into it on a nature trek! as they don't know where we're going to re-appear! A very enjoyable visit and experience anyway which proved that our presence was a show of strength, opposition and unity to such a vast waste of resources and insane government plans of power and destruction. If cruise is a deterrent then why are bunkers still being built?

Europe by train

My summer holidays! Due to various periods of temporary employment over the years, I managed to save up enough money to vacate England for the first time in my life for the whole month of July 1985. My friend and I travelled all over Europe by train mainly sleeping on the trains to save in accomodation fees. The ticket is called "Interail" and costs £119.00 for 30 days. It was also my first time on a large boat and departing from Dover was quite a strange experience leaving England, also seeing the beaches of France. We visited 12 countries including France, Spain, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, (Luxemburg) and even Turkey. The whole holiday cost us less than £350.00 each altogether which is quite good considering how much the average tourist would spend, especially the yanks and we saw loads everywhere! We managed okay being vegetarian but I think vegans would find it a little more difficult. I was surprised at how many people smoke (cigarettes) mainly in southern Europe, a noticeable difference more! I was also quite shocked to see all police around Europe with guns and batons and so many soldiers everywhere, young conscripts, There was loads of armed soldiers in Turkey who only looked about 16/17 year olds, I think Turkey is/was still under military rule. There was nationalist flags all over the place in Yugoslavia, a so-called "socialist" state but very obviously Communist. I felt a little outcast and under observation. South coast of France was beautiful, really blue Mediterranean Sea. Rome was an amazing place for me as my temporary work mentioned above is archaeology! A very interesting place to visit as it was the capitol of the once great Roman Empire which supposedly civilised and educated England. Venice also impressed me, quite a strange place really. The journey through Greece to Athens was beautiful, really nice scenic mountain route. The Acropolis of Athens is really impressive. a view from it for miles. Also travelled around the Peloponnese area of south-west Greece which again had amazing mountain scenery and small villages. One of the best moments of the holiday was sleeping on the beaches of two small Greek-

Islands, Tinos and Syros. So peacefull and isolated, the sunset and sunrise were beautifull, and the moon, stars and the sound of waves during the night was a really nice experience. We only went to Istanbul in Turkey but briefly set foot on Asia after crossing the Bosperous water/sea by boat. Some impressive mosques such as the st Sofia and Blue mosque. (picture below) Quite a noticable culture difference in Turkey allth-ough Istanbul being a capitol city was still fairly westernised. Cheap exchange rate for sterling when we were there so we had quite a grand time! Unfortunately I was quite ill while on the return journey through Yugoslavia which was quite frightening being so far from home but I recovered! (Quite ironic being ill in a communist state!) Austria was very scenic and mountainy especially the railway from Insbruck to Munich, Germany. In Germany we also visited Hannover, Hamburg, Celle and Dachau Nazi concentration camp which has been mostly preserved as a very educational museum in remembrance. A very horrifying experience especially the ovens still intact. Also visited Copenhagen-Denmark, Rotterdam and Amsterdam in Holland, Brussels in Belgium, and also Milan in Italy and Florence. Only went to San Sebastian in Spain which is just inside the border by the sea as I did'nt want to fund an economy with a disgusting record of animal abuse. Switzerland was also beautifull, large lakes and snow capped high mountains. We saw quite a few punks in Amsterdam, Copenhagen and Hannover and Hamburg and also saw a punk clothes shop in Athens! Many females around Europe were topless (I could'nt help noticing!) in a natural relaxed manner allthough a few were parading! Hardly any males have tattoos. Certain parts of Amsterdam had really perverse mags on open display but even more pathetic was the sight of women in window displays wearing very little. By the way, the beaches of England seem quite Victorian compared to Europes sexual freedom and awareness. We came back to England Ostende to Dover, a strange feeling being "back home". A very much enjoyed adventure, experience and nice to associate and meet our neighbouring countries people and also an experience in hotter climates as it was in the 90s in Greece! Can't wait to go travelling and exploring our beautiful planet again.

Did a prehistoric comet strike exterminate the dinosaurs, by blotting out the sun's light and warmth with its debris?

Halloo!! Is anybody there?!! Halley's comet is due to be seen from planet Earth with the naked eye from December 85 to about February 86. "So what!" I hear you say! But hasn't it occurred to you that government, royalty and religion(?) would rather you ignored what's "out there" just in case there is life superior to ~~the~~ them! In 1979 after many supposed sightings of "UFOs" parliament came to the conclusion after debate that no alien spacecraft and no life exists elsewhere on another planet other than Earth!! what an absolute arrogant lie. Every 10,000 years or so, a comet or asteroid of around 100 metres across strikes the Earth. The impact energy is about 10 megatons, the equivalent of a single large nuclear weapon, and about 100 times more powerful than the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima. The world nuclear arsenals now exceed 13,000 megatons. Could a comet or meteorite be responsible for the extinction of the dinosaurs? (no it wasn't AIDS!) If such an event happens once every million years on average, there is one chance in a million that it will happen in the coming year. But one chance in a million is roughly the risk you take on a commercial airline flight! (and look how many air crashes there's been recently!) Okay so Halley's comet most likely won't crash to Earth (but the government aren't likely to warn me and you are they as they've got bunkers haven't they??) but isn't it time we took an interest in our neighbouring solar "system" and stopped letting society limit our material world (Earth) knowledge?

The Conflict continues A

Conflict-The battle continues 2-track single.
Conflict have done it again! a sixth piece of revolutionary vinyl. Conflict just keep getting better. none of this militant lefty politics you get in the pop charts. Conflict are pure anarchist. no messing! These two tracks are so angry, so powerful and emotional, it inspires strength of beliefs and it educates. I feel isolated without such doses of musical anarchy! Conflict are tough musicians and lyric writers, no tunes, no false ego trips, just angry truth and protest. I bought this single (only 90p) and first played it on November 5th amid bangs and screeches outside, an ironic match but my dog was terrified! If only more people could hear Conflict, or are they afraid of the truth? the message is in the title- The battle for true freedom continues.....

Wot! Nobacon? Danburt Nobacon- The Unfairytale LP.

Dan is known to some of us as one of the anarcho-punk band Chumbawamba. This is a solo effort by Dan and his guitar but no way is it boring. This LP is humorous, sarcastic, educational, inspirational and even quite entertaining! The music is very folkish but is also varied with unfairytale big business-type sarcastic conversations. The one thing that spoils this LP is Dan's obsession with "toilets, and shit." I understand the sarcasm but what about the people who think anarcho-punks say naughty four letter words? if you can't find it in your local HMV store or any other send £3.00 to; Dan, sky and trees, c/o Box 4, 59 Cookridge street, Leeds 2.

CHUMBAWAMBA -REVOLUTION LP Dan's band release their first piece of vinyl after previously only releasing cassettes but this is very tame compared to other Chumba's material so I'm not that inspired but go on and buy it etc! Chumba's are a very original clever band and can be more emotional and powerful and angry so let's hear it.

SUBHUMANS LP "Worlds Apart" (their 3rd) should be out in December despite the band splitting up of who I interviewed in my issue 2+3. Thanks to Dick and the band for my youthful inspiration. SUB HUM ANS

CND Bureaucrats ☸ Ⓐ ?

Some of you may remember that in my issue 2 I wrote to two butchers with some questions for an interview, democratic reasoning and protest offering the butcher to state his side of the story. I recieved no reply. In October this year (85) I wrote to Jeromy Deacon- the co-chair of Leicester CND with some questions, including; "what do you think to the various direct action methods of the ALF in relation to the growing NVDA within the anti-nuclear movement?" and; "What do you think to the class war anarchist group and the anarchist movements crtisism of CNDs so-called "state controlled protest?" I recieved no reply! This didn't really surprise me though as it was the fourth letter I had sent to the LCND office with no reply! It maybe the GPO or even the police's fault! Maybe they nav'nt recieved my letters, but I've oft- en heard talk of "oh we're so busy and short of voll- untary staff at the office"! In March this year (85) I donated £5 to Leicester NVDA group, I only recieved verbal thanks, its hardly any trouble to send me a short note of thanks for 13p is it? £5 is a lot of money to me, I know the ALF and HSA are much more gratefull, In the LCND monthly newsletter it says; - "Please contribute articles, news, poems etc," well I've tried to communicate with you LCND, although they did mention my poems booklet "The end product of ev- olution?" in your April issue which I thank them for I very much object to being ignored, or whatever, by people I trust and supposedly share opinions, I have also written to quite a few other CND goups nation- wide with very little response again. Maybe its be- cause my views are too "extreme" or could it be be- cause I'm male?! We cannot achieve nuclear disarm- ament by joining CND or the Labour party, It will on- ly happen if we comunicate with each other, respect, each other, act individually and question our every action and ultimately stop taking part in the whole exploitive and oppressive system and show alternatives as well as taking mass civil disobedience. I do'nt like critisising CND especially Jeromy whom I know has been involved in regular NVDA as well as serving a prison sentence, I'm just pointing out the bureau- rocratic arrogance and ignorance at the office.

Uncle ALF needs you!

Six Leicester people are at present being charged with criminal damage to butchers premises in Leicestershire as well as conspiracy to commit damage with another court appearance in January 86. All over the country as well as Europe and the USA direct action is on the increase in desperation of campaigning for animal rights. Mainly I support the actual liberation of animals from cruelty although almost anything non-violent to people is needed. (see intro of previous page) The good news is that vegetarianism is on the increase whether it be moral reasons, health reasons or the high cost of meat. Would you eat human flesh? Would you consider human babies bodies displayed in butchers shop windows obscene? We can't stop people eating meat but the sight of a butchers shop is a sight we vegetarians/vegans see most days rather than seeing a fox hunt pass down our local street or see an animal vivisected on every day. Butchers shops are an every day reminder and symbol of animal abuse and murder. Human bodies are'n't dissected in school classrooms! the knowledge is learnt from books so why are animals murdered and used as apparatus? The human race wrongly believe they are the dominant master race. racism, sexism, fascism and specism. Animals are culled because the human race is afraid of other species multiplying beyond control and being the majority species. self-styled superiority. Yet, humans can't control their own species population explosion and sexual perversion. (revolution?) As well as receiving no reply from LCND (see previous page) I also wrote to Ronnie Lee of the ALF for an interview also with no reply so far although I do hope to receive a reply eventually! I'm planning a booklet called "They behave like bloody animals!" with poems by me as well as other people and hopefully the interview with Ronnie Lee, which I hope to release in January 1986. price 20p+SAE. any profits to the local accused possible fines fund or future activities. Force fed overdose

Why not use humans? is it humane?
locked up in prisons, surely its the same?
to torture someones life, to lock it away,
is a crime against humanity but animals have no say.

They pump them with diseases to see who reacts the most.

Their drugged up real high in their force fed overdose.

Blood splattered overalls, wet rubber gloves,
you're so full of hate, where is your love?
Your job is well paid but the act is so cruel,
but a nice perfumed lipstick goes well with a jewel.

Lying on the table, strapped by all fours,
jabbed and cut open they live through this war,
The end of the massacre, for better or worse?
just thrown in the bin the experimental corpse.

So lets all be heros, save these innocent lives?
Murder is murder, they're muggers with knives.
Smash these torture chambers, rooms full of hate,
these sick schools of science are part of your state.

Harry Kṛṣṇa!

Some of you may have noticed devotees of the Hare Kṛṣṇa movement walking around in cities chanting, wearing pink robes and almost bald heads. You may ignore these people as just another group of religious freaks but if you take just a little interest you may find you agree with a few of their beliefs and have a little in common. Firstly the Hare Kṛṣṇas are vegetarian- (not vegan though) and are very knowledgeable on the subject and not regarding meat as religiously "sacred". I first met up with these people at a Leicester Vegetarian meeting at the Hare Kṛṣṇa Govindas vegetarian restaurant. Although they do follow a religious doctrine I found them very interesting to talk to, they reject the material (western) world and preach self-consciousness, self-realisation- (Kṛṣṇa consciousness) and believe the laws of karma are directly linked to the problems of the world- "For every action there is a reaction", and they believe in reincarnation and regard the human form as the most advanced soul which should respect all other forms of life yet the Hare Kṛṣṇas seek not to reincarnate back to the material world and to remain a spirit! The Christian religion is so damn hypocritical compared to the Hare Kṛṣṇas ideas. Obviously I'm not saying their religion is acceptable to atheists! All I'm saying is that all religions have a little truth and sense yet most have been misinterpreted or even used as a political weapon to indoctrinate and control people. There is knowledge to be learnt from religion if only people would decide for themselves and not just accept indoctrination. There are only two or three Hare Kṛṣṇa centres in the UK and as I've said Leicester has one, included in their vast amount of literature are some small easy to read paperback books, one is called "The Higher taste" which has 60 vegetarian recipes in it as well as chapters concerning the history and different aspects of vegetarianism. They can be contacted at; 87 Belgrave Road, Leicester.

The END?

From ape to man in centuries,
Seas and rivers and flowers and trees.
Did God cover the Earth in a concrete jungle?
Whos population explosion caused this crazy bungle?

The planet is stockpiled with the fruits of mother
Earth,
but the self destruct buttons not in the hands of the youth.

If their ever was a flood, Who opened the gates?
it still hasnt flushed out all the waste.

Can we really let it happen? sit there and cry?
Together we must remove the aggressors or the end
is nigh.

But all you do is sit and wait, just letting the world leaders decide your fate.

Is the revolution an effort by a minority?
Shall we accept death? have we no destiny?

Have we got as far as we can go? is there nothing else to learn, everthing we know?

Do you realise the end is nigh? we know we could be blown sky high.

The world situation is in crisis day to day,
but people in the city pretend their unaware.
Turn the television off and the problem goes away,
but ignorance is insecurity and proves that you do care.

Why dont people realise its all coming to a halt?
collision time is imminent for planet Earth.
The world is full of pressure, like the sea is full of salt,
itll soon be too late to ride the surf.

Life and death means nothing, competition divides
